DIRECT FROM HOLLAND

Offering you a selection of the newest and choicest Tulip varieties. Big flowering bulbs imported direct from Holland.

Albright. (Darwin.) An intense, brilliant carmine-red that dazzles the eye.

Fantasy. (Parrot.) An exquisite creation that lends a breath of Oriental charm to your garden; giant in size, a two-toned pink with marking of white and green.
Price: 10 bulbs $1.15; 25 bulbs $2.75; 100 bulbs $9.50.

Golden Beauty. (Darwin.) Bright gold in the traditional large cup-shape.

Philip Snowden. (Darwin.) One of the newer introductions in a bright rose.

Insurpassable. (Darwin.) Lilac-blue and one of the best known.

King Harold. (Darwin.) An intense deep velvet-red.

La Tulipe Noire. (Darwin.) Known as the Black Tulip, and extremely popular.

Louis XIV. (Breeder.) Rich tones of purple blended with tinges of copper. Tall and stately.

Mrs. John Scheepers. (Cottage.) Elegantly long cupped flowers in a beautiful deep golden yellow.

Red Flash
(Keizerskroon)

Niphetos. (Darwin.) Unusual lemon-yellow inside; creamy white outside. Charming and dependable.

Princess Elizabeth. (Darwin.) Soft deep rose, slightly edged in pink. A garden favorite.

Sun Dance. (Breeder.) All that the name implies. Bright salmon-orange. Grows about 27 inches high.

Red Flash. (Keizerskroon.) A lovely two-toned orange-red and yellow variety. An outstanding favorite.

Zwanenburg. (Darwin.) A pure white, tall and stately.

Red Emperor

The giant of all Tulips. The first Tulip to come into bloom in the spring. It's not tall, but when planted in groups of 6 to 12 it's a dazzling colorful spot in the garden. Petals are 6 inches long and it reminds one of the huge Oriental Poppy.

Plant in groups in front of your foundation-planting, borders, or beds for absolutely the most startling effect you have ever seen in a Tulip.

Auratum

Hardy Garden LILIES

The Aristocrat of All Garden Flowers

Lilies can best be planted in the fall, although spring planting can be done. When once established in a favorable spot no other flower can equal their great beauty at their blooming period. Planted among low growing shrubbery, in perennial beds and borders, they are most at home, as all varieties like a cool ground shaded by other plants. A soil well drained and rich in humus, is ideal for most any Lily. Plant a few clumps this fall for bloom next summer and in the future.

Orange Speciosum

Regal

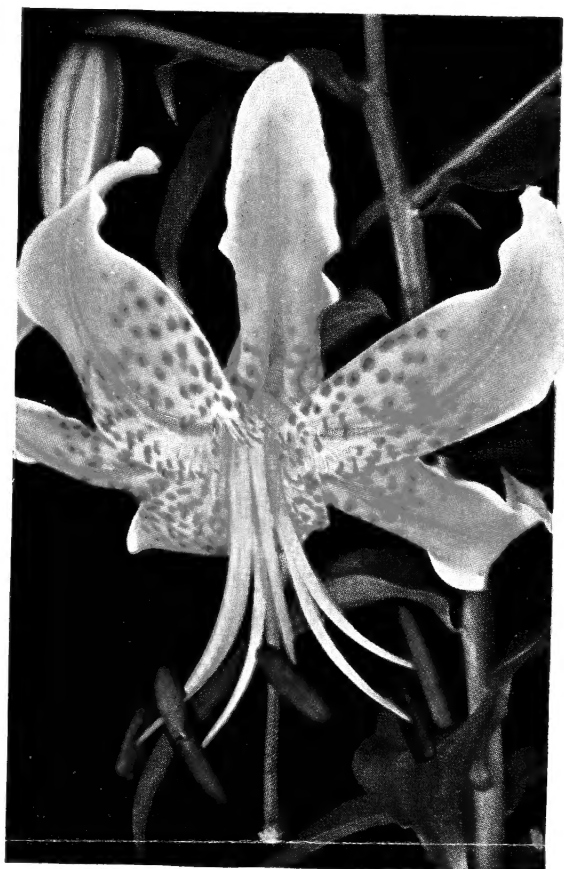

Auratum esperanger (Gold Band of Japan). A new hybrid and a worthy addition to this class. A plant often has 7 or 8 huge blooms 6 to 8 inches in diameter and is actually startling. Very fragrant. Each $1.95; 3 for $5.60.

Orange speciosum (Henryi). A tall grower with bright orange-yellow spotted brown flowers. Blooms in August. An easy grower. Giant bulbs, each 70c; 3 for $1.75.

Speciosum rubrum. Large, fragrant, recurved blooms of rose-pink spotted with crimson. 3 to 5 ft. tall. Plant in partial or open overhanging shade. Each 90c; 3 for $2.50.

Regal. The Masterpiece Lily. Easily grown in any garden. Vigorous grower, pure white with creamy white throat. Very fragrant. Large bulbs, 3 for $1.25; 12 for $4.50.

ONE each of all four Lilies listed on this page for $3.55.

Speciosum Rubrum

HYACINTH BULBS from HOLLAND

For solid masses of uniform color, or an assortment in striking mixtures, plant these selected favorites in borders, solid beds, or scattered among shrubbery.
